Andrew Grey grew up in western Michigan with a father who loved to tell stories and a mother who loved to read them. Since then he has lived throughout the country and traveled throughout the world. He is blessed with an accepting family, fantastic friends, and the world's most supportive and loving partner. Learn more at <http://andrewgreybooks.com/>.

One very early morning, Allison B. Hanson woke up with a conversation going on in her head. Unable to go back to sleep, she went to her computer and began writing. It still hasn't stopped. Her romances include paranormal, sci-fi, fantasy, and mystery suspense. Visit her at <http://www.allisonbhanson.com/>.

Megan Hart writes books. Some of them use bad words, but most of the others are okay. She can't live without the internet, music, or the ocean, and she will always love Coke Zero, but they've decided to see other people. Learn more at MeganHart.com, Facebook.com/Megan.Hart and Twitter.com/Megan_Hart.

A former radio talk show host, Heidi Hormel has always been a writer. She spent years as a small-town newspaper reporter and as a PR flunky before settling happily into penning romances with a wink and a wiggle. The books in her Angel Crossing series, feature cowboys, cowgirls, babies, and cute critters. Visit her at HeidiHormel.net.

Susan Kelley is a full-time writer from Central Pennsylvania. She's multi-published in space opera romance and in epic fantasy as Susan Gourley. One of the administrators of the Insecure Writers' Support Group, she has worked as an editor to publish a non-fiction writing manual and an upcoming short story anthology. Find her at <http://www.susangourley.blogspot.com/>.

Wade Kelly lives in conservative, small-town America where it's not easy to live open in one's beliefs. She writes passionately about controversial issues and strives to make a difference in the world by bringing hope and making people think. She likes snakes, can't spell, and has a tendency to make people cry. Her online home is <http://www.writerwadekelly.com/>.

A U.S. Naval Academy graduate and former Naval Intelligence Officer, Geri Krotow has lived in such far-flung places as Whidbey Island, Washington State, and Moscow, Russia. She creates powerful love stories with settings she's personally experienced. Geri writes the Silver Valley, PD series, a Central Pennsylvania-set series for Harlequin Books. Her website is <http://gerikrotow.com/>.

Award-winning author Cate Masters loves stories of any genre. Multi-published in contemporary to historical, fantasy/dark fantasy to paranormal, she sometimes mashes genres. Look for her at <http://catemasters.blogspot.com> and in strange nooks and far-flung corners of the web.

Taryn Plendl is a USA Today Bestselling Author who has always had a love affair with reading. Writing her own books has been a way for her to step away from reality and live a bit through her fun and sometimes damaged characters. You will almost always find a Happy Ever After at the end of her stories. Learn more at www.tarynplendl.com.

Award-winning author Delynn Royer pens historical fiction for the light of heart. Whether it be romance, mystery, western, or adventure, two essentials are guaranteed: A strong hero and a fetchingly troublesome heroine who gets in his way. Aside from the research that inspires her novels, Delynn adores classic movies. Visit her at www.delynnroyer.com.

Misty Simon loves a good story and decided one day that she would try her hand at it. Eventually she got it right. There's nothing better in the world than making someone laugh, and she hopes everyone at least snickers in the right places when reading her books. Find her at www.mistysimon.com.

Victoria Smith lives in Central PA with her high school sweetheart and way too many animals. She writes paranormal, urban fantasy, and dystopian—all with romance, because who doesn't love a happy ending? She publishes with Liquid Silver Books and Soul Mate Publishing.
